THE LOOK OF WOOD LIKE NEVER BEFORE

Today, more than ever, architects and designers want to bring the aesthetics of real wood to their projects without sacrificing the strength and durability of metal construction. At Jotun Powder Coatings, we pride ourselves on providing solutions that meet our customers' needs and exceed their expectations. And with the release of our newest powder coating collection, we've done both.

Introducing Woodspiration - versatile, durable and easy-to-maintain finishes that bring the realistic look of wood to your next aluminium or steel project.

Our newest collection offers a range of effects, allowing you to achieve a wide variety of wood patterns in limitless colour combinations.

When developing Woodspiration, we had the same criteria as our customers:

- High quality and durability (certified according to Qualicoat and Qualideco)
- Versatile effects achieved by powder on powder system or by sublimation technology
- Realistic appearance and feel

The result is a collection of beautiful, durable effects to suit your needs. Extensively tested and third-party certified, Woodspiration offers superior exterior performance in the most demanding climates – resistant to heat, humidity, UV radiation and abrasion. Take a look at Woodspiration and reimagine the possibilities of wood effect powder coatings.
